5 Shadowing · Culture Bites: the story behind two autumn celebrations

Repeat part of the listening just behind the speaker, like a shadow.

How it works

Your teacher plays the clip three times: first read while you listen, then mumble the words along, then say them aloud just behind the speaker.

Emma: Now, Thanksgiving. It takes place on the fourth Thursday of November, and this year that's the twenty-sixth.

Sam: The story usually starts in 1621. A group of English settlers, the Pilgrims, had a harvest feast with the Wampanoag people, who lived in the area. It lasted three days.

Emma: But it didn't become a national holiday until 1863, when President Abraham Lincoln made it official.

Sam: Today families travel home, get together and share a big meal, usually with turkey. Many people say what they are grateful for.

6 Origins, relatives and comparing

Read how it works and complete. After two wrong tries you will see the answer.

How it works

Connectors: First, Then, Finally; and, also, but, because.

Past Simple for one finished event (It started in 1621. Lincoln made it official in 1863.) · used to for past habits that are not true now (People used to carve turnips.). Negative: didn't use to. Question: Did… use to…?

Defining relatives: a festival which / that…, people who…, a place where…, the day when… · Comparing: both… and, whereas, while, similar to, different from, unlike.

8 Piece 2: our celebration

Write about your group's celebration. This is the second piece of your final product.

Your task
Compare your group's celebration with a local one (100–130 words): two similarities, two differences (both… and, whereas, similar to, different from) and one sentence about its origin (Past Simple / used to).

Pauta: ___ is celebrated on the ___ of ___. First, people ___. Then, ___. Finally, ___. We eat ___. I like it because ___. I find it interesting that ___.

Minimum 100 words.

Check before you hand it in

☐ Two similarities with both… and / similar to

☐ Two differences with whereas / different from

☐ One origin sentence (Past Simple or used to)

☐ At least one relative clause

9 Speaking: compare

Record yourself talking about your group's celebration. Use notes; don't read.

Your task

Compare your group's celebration with a local celebration (60–90 s).

Model

Both Diwali and Christmas are festivals of light, and families exchange gifts in both. However, Diwali lasts five days, whereas Christmas is mainly one or two days. Diwali is a very old festival which comes from India.

Write what you will say · Then read it aloud three times and say it to your teacher.

© 2026 Roger Beltran · English Lab · All rights reserved

10 Talk: where does it come from?

A teammate asks you about the celebration your group is researching.

Your task

Answer in two or three sentences each. Use used to, a relative clause (who / which / where) and a comparison (older than, more… than).

1. Which celebration is your group researching?
2. When do people celebrate it?
3. What do people do?
4. Where does it come from?
5. What did people use to do in the past?
6. Is it older than Halloween?

Then · Have the conversation aloud with a classmate: they ask and you answer, then swap.

© 2026 Roger Beltran · English Lab · All rights reserved

Model

Our group is researching Hanukkah, the Jewish festival of lights. It usually takes place in December and lasts eight nights. Families light one more candle every evening and eat food cooked in oil, like latkes. It comes from a story about the Temple in Jerusalem, which is more than two thousand years old, so it’s older than Halloween.

🔁 How did it go?

What helped me most?

What do I need to review?

📚 Study guide: prepare for Checkpoint 2 and the final exam

How to study what you learn in this Learning Path, and practice that works like the checkpoint and looks like the exam. The answer key is at the end of each activity.

How to study

🧠 Test yourself, don’t reread

Close your notes and try to remember: write the words, say the rule, answer the questions. Then check. Rereading and highlighting feel useful, but you remember much less.

Retrieval practice · Roediger & Karpicke 2006; Dunlosky et al. 2013

📅 Spread it out

Three short sessions of 15 minutes on different days work better than one long session the day before.

Spacing · Cepeda et al. 2006

🔀 Mix it up

Practise similar things together so you learn to choose the right one for each sentence.

Interleaving · Rohrer & Taylor 2007

✅ Check and fix at once

Mark your answers with the key straight away and write each wrong answer again, correctly.

Feedback · Hattie & Timperley 2007

💬 Say why

For every answer, say the reason: “on, because it’s a date.” Explaining makes the rule stick.

Self-explanation · Dunlosky et al. 2013

😴 Sleep on it

Your brain stores what you learn while you sleep. A short self-test and a good night’s sleep beat studying late the night before.

Sleep and memory · Diekelmann & Born 2010

My plan

1. Today · Close this page and write from memory: five new words and one example of used to, whereas and where. Then check.
2. In 2–3 days · Do “Practise for Checkpoint 2” below. Look at the key and write again what you got wrong.
3. Before Checkpoint 2 · Go over the flashcards: only the ones you still miss.
4. The week before the exam · Do the exam-style practice in every Learning Path, then the Sample exam. Repeat only the parts you failed.

What comes up

Checkpoint 2 (LS1 and Learning Paths 1–3): short gaps, one question at a time, about 45 seconds each, no going back and no notes. You do it once, and you must stay on the page: if you leave it, it is sent. It opens the next Learning Path.
Final exam: this Learning Path comes up in the Listening (questions with four options), the Vocabulary (dates, comparing, places) and the Grammar (used to and Past Simple, which / who / where / when, whereas, unlike).

Practise for Checkpoint 2

One question at a time · 45 s

It works like the real checkpoint: 11 questions, one at a time, about 45 seconds each, with no going back and no notes. This is only practice: nothing is sent, you can repeat it, and at the end you see your answers and the key.

On paper: cover the questions and uncover them one at a time, about 45 seconds each, with no going back.

1. Thanksgiving is _____ the fourth Thursday of November.
2. My sister _____ (get up) at seven every day.
3. At Halloween, children wear _____.
4. I like Christmas _____ I get presents.
5. 6/1 → on the _____ of January
6. How often _____ you do sport?
7. I like Halloween, _____ I don’t like scary films.
8. The fireworks start _____ midnight.
9. My grandparents _____ _____ live in a village, but now they live in Girona.
10. Leicester is a city _____ thousands of people celebrate Diwali.
11. _____ Diwali and Christmas are festivals of light.

Bonfire Night

Bonfire Night takes place in the UK on the fifth of November. It dates back to 1605, when a man called Guy Fawkes tried to blow up the Houses of Parliament in London. He failed, and people lit bonfires to celebrate that the king was safe.

Today, families go to big firework displays in parks, and many towns have a huge bonfire. Children used to make a “guy”, a doll made of old clothes, and ask people for “a penny for the guy”. Now very few children do this. People eat hot food outside, like baked potatoes and toffee apples, because it is usually cold and wet.

Transcripts (only if you cannot listen)

Transcript 1 · Culture Bites: the story behind two autumn celebrations

Emma: Welcome back to Culture Bites. Today: where do two famous autumn celebrations come from? Let’s start with Halloween.

Sam: Halloween comes from an old Celtic festival called Samhain. It took place in Ireland and Scotland more than two thousand years ago, at the end of the harvest and the start of winter.

Emma: And people believed that on that night, the spirits of the dead came back.

Sam: Exactly. So people used to light bonfires and wear masks to hide from the spirits. And here’s a surprise: they didn’t use pumpkins. They used to carve turnips!

Emma: Turnips? So where do the pumpkins come from?

Sam: In the 1800s, many Irish people moved to the United States. Pumpkins were bigger and easier to carve, so the tradition changed.

Emma: Now, Thanksgiving. It takes place on the fourth Thursday of November, and this year that’s the twenty-sixth.

Sam: The story usually starts in 1621. A group of English settlers, the Pilgrims, had a harvest feast with the Wampanoag people, who lived in the area. It lasted three days.

Emma: But it didn’t become a national holiday until 1863, when President Abraham Lincoln made it official.

Sam: Today families travel home, get together and share a big meal, usually with turkey. Many people say what they are grateful for.

Emma: It’s important to remember that not everybody sees the story in the same way. For some Native Americans, it is a day of mourning, a day to remember what they lost.

Sam: So both celebrations started as harvest festivals, but they have changed a lot over time.

Emma: That’s all for today. Happy holidays!

Transcript 2 · Video 1 · Mei: Lunar New Year

Mei: Hi! I'm Mei. I'm fifteen and I live in Manchester. My favourite celebration is Lunar New Year. It usually takes place in late January or February. A few days before, we clean the whole flat to sweep away bad luck. My brother hates that part! On New Year's Eve, my grandparents come from Liverpool and we have a huge reunion dinner. We make dumplings together, all of us around the kitchen table. For me, that's the best moment. Everybody is talking and laughing, and nobody is looking at their phone. Then the children get red envelopes with money, and we go to Chinatown to watch the dragon dance. It's so loud and colourful! Not every family celebrates it in the same way. But for us, it's about being together and starting the year with good luck.

Transcript 3 · Video 2 · Noah: Hanukkah

Noah: Hello, I'm Noah. I'm sixteen and I'm from London. My family celebrates Hanukkah, the Jewish festival of lights. It lasts eight nights, usually in December. Every evening, we light one more candle on the menorah. And my grandmother always tells the old story: a tiny bit of oil burned for eight days in the Temple in Jerusalem. I've heard that story maybe a hundred times, but I still love it, because it connects us to people who lived more than two thousand years ago. We eat latkes, which are potato pancakes cooked in oil, and doughnuts. And my little sister always wins at dreidel. She says it's just luck! For me, Hanukkah is about remembering where we come from. And it's about hope: one small light can make a dark winter evening feel brighter.
